Here's to 30 Years!

In January 1993, Taste of Home magazine appeared in mailboxes for the very first time. In the 30 years since, we've published more than 45,000 cherished family-favorite recipes from home cooks just like you. From recipes that have been with us from the start—like Patricia Kreitz's Moist Chocolate Cake (page 10)—to the all-new winners of our Low-Carb & Lovin' It Contest (page 63), the dishes you've so graciously shared with us over the past three decades have been tucked into recipe boxes, mainstays at holiday dinners and passed down through generations.

We hope you'll find even more recipes to keep and share in these very pages. Maybe you'll get together with a friend to try your hand at the deliciously delicate French Macarons on page 33, or perhaps you'll start a weekly tradition with the regional seafood favorites from "Fish Fry, USA" on page 48. And the cozy dumpling recipes in "We're Stuffed!" (page 36) are just waiting to become chilly-night staples in your home. These—just like the thousands of recipes that have graced this magazine, our special issues and our website over the years—are absolute keepers.

And so are you. We couldn't make this magazine without your fabulous tips, your heartwarming stories and, of course, the unforgettable dishes you've passed our way. We can't thank you enough, and keep the happy cooking coming!

GET CRACKING

Pistachios are crunchy, satisfying, and packed with healthy fats and protein. In a nutshell, they're the perfect snack.

Heart Healthy

A single serving of pistachios has 13 grams of fat—almost 12 grams of which is the healthy, unsaturated variety. These good monounsaturated and polyunsaturated fats can help lower LDL (aka bad) cholesterol levels. So feel free to munch on a handful for a boost in heart health!

Protein Rich

Pistachios, unlike many other nuts, are considered a complete protein, meaning that they contain all nine essential amino acids that your body needs. This makes these nuts a great option for those enjoying plant-based diets. You can get 6 grams of protein from a 1-ounce serving.

Brimming with B6

These nuts are a powerful source of vitamin B6. This vitamin helps your body maintain a healthy immune system, builds oxygen-carrying red blood cells and even helps create serotonin—an important mood-boosting chemical in your brain. Snack on for happiness!

SWEET CURRY ROASTED PISTACHIOS

Cook and stir over low heat until fragrant and oil is melted. Remove from heat; stir in 3 cups shelled roasted pistachios. Spread onto a parchment-lined 15x10x1-in. baking pan. Pet Love

FUREVER YOUNG

BOLSTER YOUR BEST PAL'S LONGEVITY WITH WELLNESS TIPS FROM TRUSTED PROFESSIONALS

More than 60% of American households own a pet, according to the American Veterinary Medical Association. But it's safe to say about 100% of those wish their dog or cat could live longer. This guide is a good place to start! Improve your pet's well-being with expert advice.

Watch their weight. More than half of domesticated cats and dogs are overweight or obese, according to the Association for Pet Obesity Prevention. That can lead to big trouble, including a life span reduced up to 2½ years, according to one study. See whether your furry friend needs to shed some pounds by looking at them from above. You should observe a distinct tuck at the waistline and be able to feel (but not see) the ribs.

Visit the vet. As with humans, regular exams can spot problems soon enough for successful treatment. "Because pets age more quickly than humans, issues can creep up fast," says veterinarian Pete Lands, the chief medical officer at Washington Ave. Animal Hospital in Philadelphia. Keep up on treatments such as vaccinations and deworming.

Squeeze in exercise. For dogs, aim for between 30 minutes and two hours of daily activity, such as walking or running, depending on the breed. Stimulate cats by playing with a laser pointer, providing catnip-infused toys or adding perches to your home.

Tend to their teeth. According to Banfield Pet Hospital, almost 70% of cats and 80% of dogs have dental disease, which may be linked to the development of heart and kidney disease. To avoid that, brush your pet's teeth every day. Then get your pet's teeth professionally cleaned by a vet at least once a year.

Do a DNA test. It might sound crazy, but pinpointing your dog's true genetic history can help protect against breed-specific diseases. DNA tests aren't always completely accurate, but they'll help narrow things down so you can start taking the appropriate measures for your mutt.

Assist them in aging with grace. Cats reach senior status when they're 11 to 14 years old; for dogs, it's around 7 or 8. If your cat has arthritis, consider a litter box with lower walls. Has your pet's vision deteriorated? Place extra lights on stairs and in dark spaces. Consider putting rugs on slick floors and baby gates at the tops of stairs to prevent falls. ●

Bakeable

PETITE
PERFECTION

Wondering if you can make these patisserie standouts in your kitchen? We say oui! Here's how to master these French favorites.

Editor Lisa Kaminski shares her tips and tricks for February's Bakeable Challenge: French Macarons!

LISA'S TOP TOOLS

Food Processor

Even though almond flour is already fine, I pulse it with the confectioners' sugar in a food processor before making the batter. This extra step gives these cookies the right texture.

PERFECT MACARON
SILPAT

Baking Mat with Guides

Make sure your macarons are all the same size. This silicone mat makes it easy to pipe identical cookies.

Silpat Macaron Half-Sheet Baking Mat $30 surlatable.com

STEP 1: WHISK THE EGG WHITES
Meringue forms the foundation of these cookies. Beat egg whites and salt until frothy, then slowly add the superfine and confectioners' sugars. Whisk until you have stiff, glossy peaks.

STEP 2: FOLD IN THE ALMOND FLOUR
Take your time to fold the almond flour mix into the meringue, adding a third of the flour at a time. Be careful not to deflate the egg whites; they give the cookies their texture and lift.

STEP 3: PIPE MACARON SHELLS
Add the batter to a piping bag fitted with a round tip. Hold the bag perpendicular to your baking sheet and pipe circles. Use a mat with guides or draw them yourself with a template (a shot glass works!).

STEP 4: REST, THEN BAKE
After piping, don't rush to the oven. Let the shells dry out at room temperature. They're ready to bake when the tops of the cookies are no longer tacky to the touch. Be patient.

STEP 5: MAKE THE BUTTERCREAM
The filling for these cookies is a simple buttercream. Start by beating room-temperature butter and confectioners' sugar, then add cream, vanilla extract and salt. Make sure you're using a good quality vanilla for the best flavor.

STEP 6: FILL WITH BUTTERCREAM
Lastly, use a pastry bag fitted with a round tip to pipe a generous dollop of buttercream filling on the bottoms of half the macaron shells. Then top with the remaining cookies for the perfect French confection.

French Macarons

Taste of Home

Prep: 1 hour + standing
Bake: 15 min./batch + cooling
Makes: 30 macarons

MACARON SHELL
1⅓ cups almond flour
2¼ cups confectioners' sugar, divided
4 large egg whites, room temperature
⅛ tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. superfine sugar
Nonpareils, optional

BUTTERCREAM FILLING
¼ cup unsalted butter, softened
1 cup confectioners' sugar
2 Tbsp. heavy whipping cream
½ tsp. vanilla extract
⅛ tsp. salt

1. Place almond flour and 1¾ cups confectioners' sugar in a food processor; pulse until thoroughly mixed to ensure almond flour is very fine. Pass the almond flour mixture through a fine-mesh sieve; discard any large pieces that remain.

2. Place egg whites and salt in a very clean bowl of a stand mixer fitted with a whisk attachment; whisk on medium-low speed until frothy. Slowly add superfine sugar; whisk until dissolved, 1-2 minutes. Slowly add remaining ½ cup confectioners' sugar; increase speed to high and whip until meringue is glossy and stiff peaks form, 1-2 minutes.

3. Gently fold the almond flour mixture into meringue, a third at a time. Using the side of a spatula, smooth batter up sides of bowl several times to remove air bubbles and ensure there are no lumps; do not overmix. Run spatula down the center of the bowl; the line in the batter should remain visible for a moment before mixture runs back into itself.

4. Position rack in upper third of oven; preheat oven to 300°. Transfer batter into a pastry bag fitted with a #7 or #10 round tip. Pipe 1⅜-in. rounds onto a parchment-lined tray about 1 in. apart. Tap the tray against counter 2-3 times to remove excess air bubbles. If desired, sprinkle with nonpariels. Let macarons rest until no longer wet or sticky to the touch, 30-60 minutes. Bake, 1 tray at a time, until cookies rise about ⅛ in. to form feet, 14-16 minutes, rotating tray halfway through baking. Remove tray and let macarons cool completely; repeat with remaining trays. Once macarons have cooled completely, remove from parchment.

5. To make filling, cream butter in a stand mixer fitted with a whisk attachment; slowly add the confectioners' sugar until incorporated. Add heavy cream, vanilla and salt; mix until smooth. Pour frosting into a pastry bag fitted with a small round tip; pipe onto the bottoms of half the macarons. Top with remaining macaron shells. Refrigerate, covered, until ready to serve.

1 MACARON 101 cal., 4g fat (1g sat. fat), 5mg chol., 26mg sod., 16g carb. (14g sugars, 0 fiber), 2g pro.

Strawberry Variation: For macaron shells: Add pink gel food coloring (do not use liquid food coloring) to whipped meringue until desired color. For filling: Add 1 Tbsp. strawberry powder to confectioners' sugar. If desired, add 2-3 drops strawberry flavoring to frosting. Pipe a circle of frosting onto bottoms of half the shells. Place ¼ tsp. strawberry jam in center of each frosting circle. Top with the remaining shells.

Chocolate Variation: For macaron shells: Add 2 Tbsp. dark cocoa powder to almond flour and confectioners' sugar before sifting. ●

Indian Samosas

For centuries, Indian cooks have been making, adapting and perfecting the samosa. Fillings vary across India and abroad, but a well-seasoned stuffing is always a must. Include traditional spices like cumin, coriander and ginger with your chosen protein or veggie.

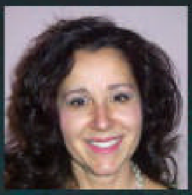
PORK & CHIVE POT STICKERS



Here's my top make-ahead appetizer. My three kids are old enough to cook these pot stickers right from the freezer.
—Marisa Raponi, Vaughan, ON

Prep: 1 hour • Cook: 5 min./batch
Makes: 5 dozen

2 carrots, finely chopped
1 small onion, finely chopped
½ cup finely chopped water chestnuts
⅓ cup minced fresh chives
1 large egg white, lightly beaten
3 Tbsp. reduced-sodium soy sauce
½ tsp. pepper
1 lb. ground pork
60 pot sticker or gyoza wrappers
3 Tbsp. canola oil, divided
1 cup chicken broth, divided

1. Combine the first 7 ingredients. Add pork; mix lightly but thoroughly. Place a scant 1 Tbsp. filling in the center of each wrapper. (Cover remaining wrappers.)

2. Moisten wrapper edges with water. Fold wrapper over filling; seal edges, pleating the front side several times to form a pouch. Stand pot stickers on a work surface to flatten bottoms; curve slightly to form crescent shapes.

3. In a large nonstick skillet, heat 1 Tbsp. oil over medium-high heat. Arrange a third of the pot stickers in concentric circles in pan, flat side down; cook until bottoms are golden brown, 1-2 minutes.

4. Add ⅓ cup broth (broth may splatter); reduce heat to medium-low. Cook, covered, until broth is almost absorbed and filling is cooked through, 2-3 minutes. Uncover; cook until bottoms are crisp and broth is completely evaporated, about 1 minute. Repeat with remaining oil, pot stickers and broth. If desired, serve with additional soy sauce and top with additional chives.

FREEZE OPTION Place uncooked pot stickers on waxed paper-lined baking sheets; freeze until firm. Transfer to airtight freezer containers. To use, cook frozen pot stickers as directed, increasing broth to ½ cup and the simmering time to 4-6 minutes for each batch.

Chinese Pot Stickers

Referred to as jiaozi in Mandarin, these dumplings can be filled with everything, including pork, veggies, chicken and tofu. The secret to the tempting texture is to both fry and steam the dumplings. Frying gives the pot stickers a crispy base, while steaming cooks the filling through.

Czech Bread Dumplings

Transform day-old slices of bread into knedlíky. While you'll find many versions of these dumplings in eastern Europe, a simply seasoned version is the perfect match for the rich stews and roasts popular in Czech cuisine.

Jewish Knish

Despite coming from all parts of Europe, Jewish immigrants arriving in America in the early 20th century found they had similar recipes for filled dumplings. Known by various names in multiple languages, folks settled on the Yiddish term knish. You'll find these pockets stuffed with everything from sweets to savories, but classic potato is a delightful place to start.

Connie and Ted's

WEST HOLLYWOOD, CA

This delightfully out-of-place Southern California eatery, inspired by New England culture, opened in 2013. But the story of Connie and Ted started long before then. The restaurant is lovingly named after the late couple who inspired it. The duo moved up and down the Atlantic coastline during the 1940s and '50s, fishing and enjoying the same seafood dishes you'll find today at the chic-yet-cozy spot.

Barrow's Catfish

NEW ORLEANS, LA

Touted by many as the best catfish in the Big Easy, Barrow's Catfish, formerly known as Barrow's Shady Inn, was founded in 1943. The owners, William "Cap" Barrow Sr. and his wife, Mary, crafted a simple but masterful menu of fried catfish, Mary's potato salad, buttered white bread and sweet-tart lemonade. The menu has since expanded, but night after night, it's still those time-honored staples drawing people inside.

DEEP-FRYING 101

To deep-fry crispy hush puppies, have a large high-sided pot, a kitchen spider, long tongs and plenty of paper towels at the ready. Be sure to use enough oil (we recommend canola, vegetable or corn oil) to completely submerge the fritters. Then, to keep the temperature of the oil steady while cooking, avoid overcrowding the pan or adding chilled batter.

The Ranch Supper Club

HAYWARD, WI

With food that's as rich as its history, the Ranch Supper Club has been a Northwoods go-to for more than 90 years. Attracting humble lumberjacks as well as Chicago gangsters in the 1930s, and curious tourists and loyal locals today, the haunt specializes in stellar surf and turf along with "honest" cocktails. As the current owners, Haley and Nathan Bochler, say, "Cheers to northern hospitality!"

THE WHAT'S WHAT ON WALLEYE

Walleye or walleye pike, a mild fish from the perch family, is flaky and delicate. If you're looking for a swap, opt for haddock, rockfish or snapper. When buying fish, avoid any that are slimy, discolored or odorous. Cook within 1-2 days of purchasing and keep it in the fridge until then. Packaged fish should be tightly wrapped with no liquid or space between the wrapper and the fish.

Send Her Over The Rainbow

700-year old legendary art form for the price of your dreams.

Now I know how that little farm girl from Kansas felt when she went over the rainbow and awoke in a land of spectacular color. Look what I found in the land of ahhs!

Approaching Burano Island off of northern Venice was like being swept away in a dream. Known for its brightly-painted fisherman houses that line the canals, I was greeted with every color of the rainbow. Since before the Venetian Republic, Burano was home to fishermen and legend says that the houses were painted in bright hues so they could see their way home when fog blanketed the lagoon.

Inspiration struck. I wanted to capture this historical beauty in the centuries old art form of Murano. Still regarded as being the finest form craftsmanship in the world, Murano has evolved into modern day fashion statements.

So I hopped on a vaporetto for a forty minute ride to Venice and sought out the impeccable talents of one of Venice's finest Murano artisans. They've captured the vibrant colors of the iconic fisherman houses in the perfect hand-formed beads of The Rainbow Murano Necklace. To own a piece of authentic Murano is to own a piece of fine art steeped in history. Each and every piece is a one-of-a-kind masterpiece.

BEST IN BREW:
OUR TEST KITCHEN'S TOP COFFEEMAKERS

Coffeemakers are an integral part of our morning routines. They provide us with the caffeine kick we need to tackle our to-do lists and stay on top of our schedules. To make this happen, these machines need to deliver delicious results without any fuss.

In our Test Kitchen, we put 10 drip coffeemaker brands to the test, brewing up pot after pot for our staffers. As our studio squad, videographers and editors sipped on cup after cup of java, our team—many of whom are former baristas and current coffee fanatics—took diligent notes on how each model performed.

Top-notch coffeemakers should hit all the marks when it comes to brewing, which means producing a pot at the right temperature in the right time frame (ideally in eight minutes or less). The resulting carafes of cafe should be flavorful and aromatic.

Going beyond the basic brewing function, our testing team put every extra feature to use on these machines. Bells and whistles are always welcome when they help streamline our routines and are easy to use. We found that many models include features such as adjustable brew strength (perfect for those who prefer a more potent cup), programmable timers, temperature controls and even options to make just a single serving.

Of course, our Test Kitchen team made sure that their top picks were easy to operate, a cinch to clean and worth the money spent. At the end of this caffeine-fueled test, our pros found models to fit any home—whether you need a coffeemaker to fit in a tight space or something to satisfy even the fussiest aficionado.

Prep: 30 min. • Bake: 25 min.
Makes: 16 servings

- 1 lb. fresh asparagus, trimmed
- 4 oz. cream cheese, softened
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 Tbsp. stone-ground mustard
- 2 tsp. lemon juice
- ¼ tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. pepper
- 1 pkg. (17.3 oz.) frozen puff pastry, thawed
- 1 large egg
- 2 Tbsp. water

1. Preheat the oven to 400°. In a large skillet, bring 1½ in. of water to a boil. Add the asparagus spears; cook, uncovered, until crisp-tender, 1-3 minutes. Remove the asparagus and immediately drop into ice water. Drain and pat dry.

2. In a small bowl, mix the cream cheese, Parmesan cheese, mustard, lemon juice, salt and pepper until blended. Unfold puff pastry sheets; cut each sheet in half to make a total of 4 rectangles. Spread each rectangle with a fourth of the cream cheese mixture to within ¼ in. of the edges. Arrange the asparagus over top, allowing tips to show at each end; roll up jelly-roll style. Using a serrated knife, cut each roll crosswise into 4 sections.

3. Place, seam side down, on a parchment-lined baking sheet. In a small bowl, whisk egg and water until blended; brush lightly over tops.

4. Bake puffs until golden brown, 25-30 minutes. Remove from pan to a wire rack; serve warm.

Taste of Home BEST HOME COOKS

Tara Bench

New York, NY

Tara, whose blog tarateaspoon.com is named in part due to her small stature, is a self-described collection of contradictions. She loves staying home and traveling. She has a sweet tooth but can't resist a good savory recipe. And she's a home cook with a professional background.

The best compliment I've received about my cooking is:

"It almost brought us to tears, it was so good!"

I always make sure my kitchen is stocked with: butter, sesame oil, harissa, sherry vinegar, plain whole-milk Greek yogurt.

My kitchen soundtrack is: '80s pop/rock.

If I were an ingredient, I'd be: sugar.

The No. 1 dish on my cooking bucket list is: really good galbi (Korean short ribs).

The last thing I ate was: homemade Neapolitan pizza.

A food that brings back childhood memories is: whole wheat pancakes.
